

May 2019

Dear Colleagues
Dear UEG Member Societies

UEG recognizes the importance of Allied Healthcare Professionals (AHCPs) in the treatment of patients

UEG Week combines world class scientific research, invited lectures by leading minds in gastroenterology and an excellent Postgraduate Teaching Programme. Multidisciplinarity is a key focus of UEG Week, which covers topics of interest for the entire Digestive Health community.

We are happy to inform you that UEG now offers reduced fees for AHCPs* to join UEG Week to network face-to-face with peers and the scientific world: For only € 250 AHCPs can attend the whole programme during UEG Week in Barcelona from October 19 to 23, including the Postgraduate Teaching Programme at the weekend.

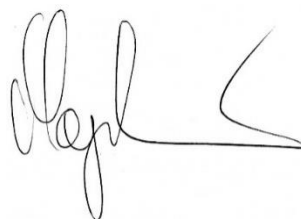

*Allied Healthcare Professionals include these fields of professions: nutritionists, dieticians, psychologists, psychotherapists, educationalists, statisticians, pharmacologists, microbiologists and nurses. This fee is only applicable for professionals without any medical degree.

With this recent introduction, we also offer nurses from all fields in Gastroenterology full access to the whole UEG Week and the opportunity not only to follow the well-established ESGENA (endoscopic) Nurse Programme but to access the full scientific programme, hands-on trainings, Young GI Network, and the Postgraduate Teaching programme.

Please spread the word of this new opportunity within your membership and network with the aim to foster multidisciplinary collaborations and benefit from the unique opportunity to meet the GI world. To find out more about UEG Week Barcelona, including delegate registration and practical information visit www.ueg.eu/week

Professor Paul Fockens
UEG President

Professor Magnus Simrén
UEG Secretary General